Some Reasons for Bible Study

1. To better understand the genius and spirit of modern institutions and conditions. Our life is saturated with the influence of biblical teachings.
2. To better appreciate current literature. English literature is permeated with scriptural allusions. Many of the finest passages turn on their use of biblical material.
3. To acquire grace and strength in public speech and in writing. McCaulay, Ruskin, Cardinal Newman, and a host of others have acknowledged their indebtedness to our English Bible for their literary style.
4. To inspire and help toward the attainment of one's best. For improvement in character, and for giving quality to one's every action nothing can surpass an adequate study of the Bible. It tones up the whole life.

University students can take one or more courses in the Bible College of Missouri, and have them credited towards their university degrees. There are no charges of any kind.

URGES A 6-HOUR WORKING DAY

Baron Leverhulme Would Shorten Labor Time After War.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press)
LONDON.—Adoption of a six-hour working day for labor and general establishment of copartnership between British employers and workmen after the war are urged by Baron Leverhulme, a large employer of labor and formerly a member of the central board of control to deal with the drink problem.

"Whatever attempt is made at settlement of industrial troubles," said Lord Leverhulme in a statement on labor conditions after the war, "I think the wages system cannot be abolished, it must continue to be the basis of the new conditions. But it needs improvement and modification. Wages should be on the highest possible scale, but no change ought to impair the supremacy of management. The first thing we must note in any effort at improvement of working conditions is the tediousness of mechanical work. The remedy I propose is the shortening of the day's task from eight to six hours."

Increases Wheat Yield Ten Bushels.

S. O. Craig of Cyrene, Mo., bought two bushels of pure Poole seed wheat from the University of Missouri College of Agriculture two years ago. He grew enough seed from the two bushels to plant his crop last fall. The pure seed, according to Mr. Craig, made a yield of eighteen bushels per acre when his own grown variety made only eight. His experience with pure seed is similar to that of Buchanan county farmers. Fifty bushels of Poole and nine bushels of Fulcaster were distributed in the county in 1913 through F. W. Faurot, who was county agent at that time. A recent canvass of the county showed that 22,000 bushels of Fulcaster and 28,000 bushels of Poole had been listed in Buchanan county for seed.

What do you know about your Bible or the Christian religion? It is not enough for educated men to have learned a few Bible stories in childhood, to have acquired a few trite quotations, or to depend on fragments gleaned from the weekly sermon. The educated man who is going to merit a position of leadership in the most vital movements of his community must have some adequate knowledge of the Bible and of religion. This requires study under competent teachers. The Bible College of Missouri offers you your opportunity. See announcement elsewhere in these columns. (adv)
